

Kyung Hee Kim

From: Christina Lynne Cochran [christina.cochran1@gmail.com]
Sent: Friday, January 30, 2009 6:32 PM
To: Kyung Hee Kim
Subject: Literature Review Topic

Prof. Kim,

I would love to schedule a meeting with you to discuss my literature review topic. I have an idea of what I would like to do but I am not sure if I can generate enough tangible research for it to be acceptable.

I am interested in the way media effects the development of children and adolescents. I have looked at various key words such as media exposure, self-esteem, and adolescent development, but I have not come across anything conclusive or many empirical studies that find a link between these ideas. I have just started my research and will be continuing it, but I would love to know if you have any input or suggestions as to how I can direct this topic to find more tangible data.

If you are available this week I can meet anytime on Wed between 4:30-our class, or anytime after our class. I could also meet on Thursday at anytime between 2-4:30.

Thanks so much for all of your help.

Bless
Christina Cochran

--
Christina Lynne Cochran

3802 Staffordshire Lane
Williamsburg Va 23188
818-518-7238

Kyung Hee Kim

From: Stacy Bolling [bolling.stacy@gmail.com]
Sent: Monday, February 02, 2009 9:45 AM
To: kkim@wm.edu
Subject: literature review

Hi Dr. Kim,

I wanted to arrange a time to meet with you to discuss my paper topic. I am interested in studying the impact of teen pregnancy and parenting on some aspect of adolescent development. I have done some basic preliminary searches, but have found that most of the research focuses on prevention of teen pregnancy (risk and protective factors, etc.). I didn't see a whole lot on the impact of this event/transition on adolescent development. My interest in this topic stems from work with several families at my internship site where this is a factor.

Thank you for your help!!

I hope you had a nice weekend!

Stacy

Kyung Hee Kim

From: Blackburn, Amy [amy.blackburn@mason.wm.edu]
Sent: Monday, February 02, 2009 12:15 PM
To: Kyung Hee Kim
Subject: Meeting to get research topic approved

Professor Kim,

I would like to schedule a meeting with you to get my research topic approved, I hope this week. I usually leave work around 5, and could get to your office by 5:15-5:30 pm. Is there a day this week that this time would work for you?

I currently work in William & Mary's Flex MBA Program, and my master's degree will be in higher education administration. Therefore, I would like to do research on marketing advanced degrees to full-time working professionals. Would you consider this an appropriate area, since it is not "education" research? I also realize that this is a broad topic and needs to be narrowed down. I am particularly interested in researching motivation to further your education in economic downturns, but I don't know how much has been published on this. I do plan to do some preliminary research before we talk to make sure there is some appropriate material in this area.

Thank you,

Amy

Amy Blackburn

Associate Director, Flex MBA and CCE Programs
Mason School of Business
The College of William & Mary

(757) 221-2291

www.flexmba.wm.edu

Kyung Hee Kim

From: allison.j.mock@gmail.com on behalf of Allison Mock [ajmock@wm.edu]
Sent: Monday, February 02, 2009 2:51 PM
To: kkim@wm.edu
Subject: Meeting to Discuss Research Topic

Dr. Kim,

I would like to meet with you soon to discuss my research topic for the proposal I am writing for Research Methods. Would you be able to meet with me this week? I saw on the syllabus that you have office hours on Wednesday afternoons. Could we plan to meet at 4pm Wednesday? I am also available at other times that afternoon if 4:00 is not convenient for you. I have thought some about the topic and have a few ideas involving my primary interests, but I would like your input about the feasibility of certain projects.

Please let me know your thoughts.

Thank you,
Allison Mock

Kyung Hee Kim

From: Latasha Nicole Eley [lneley@wm.edu]
Sent: Monday, February 02, 2009 10:27 PM
To: kkim@wm.edu
Subject: research topic

Dr. Kim,

I am also completing my master's project for the higher ed program so I plan to use the same topic for this class. My project is investigating the experiences of African American 1st generation college students. I am interested in the topic because I am a first gen student and from my personal experience and the research I have done so far it is evident that the experience of a first gen student is definitely different from that of a student with familial ties to higher education. I would like to set up my meeting with you. Please let me know some times you are available to meet. Thanks!

Latasha N. Eley

Kyung Hee Kim

From: htdeighton@wm.edu
Sent: Tuesday, February 03, 2009 8:01 PM
To: kkim@wm.edu
Subject: Research topic

Dr. Kim,

I have done some article searches and decided on a topic for my research proposal. There is research that shows that children who witness domestic violence are more likely to be abusers as adults. There is also research suggesting that negative attitudes about women are correlated with committing domestic violence. I would like to investigate the link between the two (witnessing DV and developing negative attitudes toward women). This is important research because if a link is found it could have implications for counseling children who witness domestic violence (i.e. there may be a need to include gender education at an early age). When are you available to discuss it?

Hope

Kyung Hee Kim

From: Heather Norville [jhnorville@cox.net]
Sent: Wednesday, February 04, 2009 9:08 AM
To: kkim@wm.edu
Subject: Paper Topic

Hi Dr. Kim,

I would like to do my research on the impact of choice on gifted learners creativity or the use of choice as a motivator for gifted underachievers.

Please let me know if either of these topics seem viable. I would also like to schedule a conference with you. I am available before class at about 3:30. Will you please let me know a date that you have available?

Thank you,

Heather

Kyung Hee Kim

From: ravenannadams@gmail.com on behalf of Raven Adams [raadams@wm.edu]
Sent: Thursday, February 05, 2009 10:48 AM
To: Kyung-Hee Kim
Subject: research/literature review topic

Good morning Dr. Kim!

I am interested in doing my research proposal and literature review on Adult Children of Alcoholics. I am looking more into this topic so that I can narrow it down to a more specific focus, but I am leaning towards child to adult development effects, college/academic performance, etc.

Are you available to meet today before class? I can meet you between 4:00pm and 4:30pm.

Or next week I can meet you anytime on Monday (9th)
Between 11:00am and 12:30pm, or after 3:00pm on Tuesday (10th)

Whatever works best, just let me know :)

~Raven

--

Raven A. Adams
Graduate Assistant - The Fund for William & Mary; 2009 Senior Class Gift raadams@wm.edu
ravenannadams@gmail.com

The College of William & Mary, Class of 2010
M.Ed. Student, Community and Addictions Counseling
James Madison University, Class of 2008
B.S. Psychology and Substance Abuse Intervention

"Our doubts are traitors, And make us lose the good we oft might win, By fearing to attempt." -William Shakespeare

Kyung Hee Kim

From: TJ [tejones@wm.edu]
Sent: Sunday, February 08, 2009 9:08 PM
To: Kyung Hee Kim
Subject: RE: Literature Review Topic Appointment

Dr. Kim, I have been reworking my topic. I believe I will focus on substance abuse preventions programs. I propose the following question:

Are peer-to-peer drug and alcohol prevention programs like those provided by Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD) as or more effective than the traditional school-based prevention programs Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.)?

This looks like a good topic. There is quite a lot of research saying that DARE has little or no effect. SADD is a newer program that uses peers and mentors, preliminary studies show the approach is better.

I hope all goes well with your medical procedure tomorrow.

Oh and the question about whip cream and tattoos, I do have 3 tattoos, and I like whip cream, I eat it on a lot of things.

TJ