

The University of Georgia

College of Education
Torrance Center for Creativity and Talent Development

February 26, 2010

To Whom It May Concern:

I am the Director of the Torrance Center for Creative Studies and Gifted Education. This Center is on the campus of the University of Georgia, Athens, in the Department in which E. Paul Torrance himself worked. As a matter of fact, I am the Torrance Professor of Creative Studies, hired to maintain Torrance's legacy. My office is the same one Paul Torrance used when he was working in the Center.

I am writing to confirm that Young Chae Kim is in no way affiliated with the Torrance Center at the University of Georgia. We do have agreements with several professors and experts around the world, but he is not one of them. There is no agreement between Young Chae Kim and anyone at the Torrance Center, and the companies and businesses and workshops run by Young Chae Kim do not represent the Torrance Center. There is, in short, no affiliation whatsoever between the Torrance Center and Young Chae Kim or his business operations.

If you have any questions about this, do not hesitate to write to me via email at runco@uga.edu or at the mailing address below.

Sincerely,

Mark Runco, PhD
Torrance Professor of Creative Studies & Gifted Education
